REGIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

NORTHWEST: BETWEEN THE HIGHLANDS AND VALLEYS

Pre-Columbus vestiges, ruins of fortresses and Indian villages and constructions of colonial times. Calchaquies Valleys (land of the white and fruited "torrontés wine"), the "Altiplano de la Puna" (High Plains of the northwest region) and the "Quebrada of Humahuaca" (the access to the Puna, declared as Patrimony of Humanity).

NORTHEAST: IGUAZU WATERFALLS AND NATURAL WILDLIFE

The Iguazu Falls are one of the most beautiful areas of the country, with wonderful and exuberant sides, declared by UNESCO as "Natural Heritage of Humanity". Iberá Marshes: Wetlands that cover over 13,000 km<sup>2</sup> of marsh with over 60 lakes. Visitors can get face to face with a unique wildlife.

CUYO:

LAND OF HILLS & WINE

Snowy volcanoes and vast roads that spread from the Andes and the lower parts of the highlands to the plain of the steppes. "Moon Valley" and "Canyon of the Talampaya River", paleontology sites full of amazing shapes and colors. Mendoza province is the most important wine center of the country and one of the most outstanding of the world. Vineyards can be visited to be delighted with its wines and regional food. Find the highest peak of America: the Aconcagua hill (4350 miles high).

BUENOS AIRES: COSMOPOLITAN CAPITAL CITY

Biggest urban center in the country. With its metropolitan area (Great Buenos Aires) it is the second biggest conglomerate in South America. Important cultural activity and busy night life.

PATAGONIA: ICE FIELDS, LAKES AND WILDLIFE

- 1 - Bariloche: Its landscape is made of imposing mountain masses and beautiful lakes, surrounded by dense forests with autochthon plant species. The zone also has attractive and important ski centers, such as Bariloche, located at the south of the "Nahuel Huapi" lake, to the east of the Rio Negro province.
- 2 - Puerto Madryn: the access door to the magnificent Peninsula Valdés, the Natural Reserve where southern right whales can be seen every year. Sea lions, sea elephants and birds are part of this region declared as World Heritage by UNESCO. Beyond the nearby areas surrounding the city find Punta Tombo, home of the largest colony of Magellan penguins in the world.
- 3 - El Calafate: Find the Perito Moreno Glacier and hike over this extremely huge mass of eternal ice, as well as get on board of sea crafts to cover the Argentine Lake. Well connected through regular buses from and to Río Gallegos, El Chaltén and Puerto Natales (base for the visit to the National Park "Torres del Paine")
- 4 - Ushuaia: capital city of the province of Tierra del Fuego, Antártida and the South Atlantic islands. This area at the edge of the Beagle Channel is the most southern city of the planet. Its port of deep waters is the closest to Antarctica.

MANAUS

Is the capital of Brazil's largest state, Amazonas, and is located in the Northwest of the country. It is an ideal starting point when visiting the rest of the Amazon region. Tour boats leave Manaus to see the Meeting of the Waters, where the black waters of the Negro River meet the white waters of the Solimões River, flowing side by side without mixing for several miles. Visitors can also explore riverbanks and streams, swim and canoe in placid lakes or simply walk in the lush forest.

SALVADOR DE BAHIA

Is the capital of the state of Bahia and used to be the capital of the country until 1763. The city keeps in touch with its African roots and traditions with respect to its cuisine, religion, and artwork. It is divided into two parts: the "Lower City" is at sea level and is where the city's original port and commercial area, including Mercado Modelo, are found. The "Upper City" is reached by alleyways, stone steps or the famous Lacerda elevator. This part of the city is where the majority of museums, churches, modern architecture and the Pelourinho neighborhood are located.

OURO PRETO

Was founded in the early 18th century. It was built on rocky ground and declared a national monument in 1933. It is the masterpiece of colonial architecture in Brazil with fountains, churches, ruins and towers shining with colored tiles. Centre of the gold fever in the 18th century, gold mines and colonial architecture.

RIO DE JANEIRO

Is the capital of the State of Rio de Janeiro, and was also Brazil's capital from 1763 to 1961. It is nestled between the mountains and the sea. Its magnificent shoreline includes charming bays and beautiful beaches, dotted with islands up and down the coast. Some highlight attractions of the city: Sugar loaf mount (395mts high) situated in the middle of the Guanabara Bay offering one of the most breathtaking views of the city; Corcovado mount with Christ Redeemer statue (completed in 1931 and stands 98 feet/30 meters tall), white sandy beaches like Copacabana and Ipanema beach, the Sambodromo where sambas schools parade, the Maracana stadium and the Metropolitan Cathedral, well known for its pyramid form.

SAO PAULO

is the largest and richest in Brazil and one of the largest in the World. With a booming Economy, Brazil is quickly becoming an important player in World Politics and Economy. And there is no doubt that Sao Paulo is the finance and business capital of Brazil.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

LOCATION

Peru is the third biggest country of Latin America (surface approximately 1,3 km<sup>2</sup>) – it is situated in the Northwest, south of the equator. The country borders on Ecuador and Colombia in the North, on Brazil and Bolivia in the East, on Chile in the South and on the Pacific Ocean in the West.

POPULATION

Approximately 29,8 million, half of the population still consists of Indígenas, speaking Quechua or Aymara, approx. 37% are mestizos and approx. 13% whites.

CAPITAL

Lima, population approx. 9.3 million.

POLITICS & ECONOMY

The country is governed by a presidential democracy. Peru is an agrarian country and 50 % of the active population works in the agrarian or forestry sector or lives from fishing. Tourism is an important foreign-exchange earner of the Peruvian political economy and is sponsored emphatically by the government.

CURRENCY

Peruvian Nuevo Sol.

LANGUAGE

Spanish also called Castellano. Second language is Quechua.

CLIMATE

On the coast it hardly rains and from January to March the sky is always blue. From May to November you often have the typical "garúa", a dense fog covering the sky. A temperate rather cool mountain climate is dominating in the Andes, where we have the dry season from May to November.

BEST TRAVEL TIME

TO THE COAST from December to April are the hottest months. Between June and September is the coolest and dampest time of year. During the rest of the year light clothing, a sweater and long trousers are suggested.

TO THE HIGHLANDS the best time to visit the highlands is from April to October, when there is no rain and the days are sunny, with daytime temperatures up to 24°C (75°F), but at nights it can fall to -3°C (27°F). The rainy season is from November to March.

TO THE JUNGLE the warm, wet and rainy climate with temperatures above 35°C (95°F) in the low jungle during the months of April to October make this the best time to visit. The high jungle has a temperate subtropical climate with a lot of rain between November and March and sunny days between April and October.

PERÚ

IN THE COASTAL REGION:

TRUJILLO AREA: temples, pyramids and cities of mud that survive inclement weather: Chan Chan: the largest adobe city of the Americas; Huaca del Sol y la Luna (great archaeological sites where the capital of the Moche culture was located), el Brujo (One of the most important religious and political centers of the Moche culture). Trujillo, and the entire northern region, is also known for delicious plates where seafood is the protagonist.

LIMA: in the north is the city of Caral, the oldest civilization of America, and to the south is the Archaeological Complex of Pachacamac. Lima's history predates the colonial presence in the country. The arrival of modernity didn't transform the historic center, which is recognized as a World Heritage Site.

ICA & PARACAS: boasts characteristic dunes and a vast desert etched with enigmatic figures, the Nazca Lines (can only be recognized clearly from the sky aboard small airplane), transformed into fertile fields by ancient cultures: The Paracas and the Nazca.

IN THE HIGHLANDS REGION:

CUSCO, SACRED VALLEY & MACHU PICCHU: the history of Cusco lives in its streets, squares, valleys and towns. Stunning destinations and examples of fine engineering by Inca stonemasons can be seen in Choquequirao, Sacsayhuamán, Kenko, Tambomachay, Ollantaytambo and Machu Picchu, the Inca jewel built with the wisdom of the ancient Peruvians in an ecological environment. "Valle Sagrado" (Sacred Valley) is called this way to the end of the extensive valley of Urubamba, near Cusco where the agricultural cattlemen and beautiful towns were concentrated since Inca times. "Valle Sagrado" is embraced between the towns of Pisac and Ollantaytambo, with wonderful landscapes where its inhabitants (native of the Quechua ethnic) conserve many customs and ancestral rites. Machu Picchu is the most famous archaeological site in all South America. It is an Incan city surrounded by temples, terraces and water channels, built on a mountaintop. It was built with huge blocks of stone joined to each other without any mortar. Recognized for outstanding cultural and natural values, the mixed UNESCO World Heritage property covers 32,592 hectares of mountain slopes, peaks and valleys surrounding its heart, the spectacular archaeological monument of "La Ciudadela" (the Citadel) at more than 2,400 meters above sea level. Built in the fifteenth century Machu Picchu was abandoned when the Inca Empire was conquered by the Spaniards in the sixteenth century. It was not until 1911 that the archaeological complex was made known to the outside world.

IN THE JUNGLE REGION:

The AMAZONAS region is famous for its cloud forests, páramo (alpine tundra ecosystem) and exceptional microclimates. There are also archaeological sites like the enigma of Kuélap. It is home to never-ending forests, winding rivers and abundant wildlife. IQUITOS, capital of Loreto, is isolated from the rest of the world by the impassable rainforest, crossed by the longest and biggest river in the world, the Amazon. The city has a modern and interesting character deriving from popular art and visions created by the use of ayahuasca.

In the southern Amazon region, PUERTO MALDONADO (Maldonado Port) is the departure point for journeys along the Tambopata & Piedras rivers and the lower part of the Madre de Dios river. This region is also home to indigenous communities that promote ecotourism. The greatest MANU NATIONAL PARK is one of the most extraordinary places for supporting the greatest biodiversity on earth, recognized by UNESCO as World Heritage Site and Biosphere Reserve.

PUNO: located on the Andean plateau, this region is dominated by Lake Titicaca (the highest navigable of the world), sacred place of the Incas and home to natural and artificial islands. As it shares a border with Bolivia it is the perfect place to connect Peru with BOLIVIA (SEE EXTENSION PROGRAM).

AREQUIPA: is Peru's ashlar (white stone) city with snow-capped mountains, volcanoes (e.g. Misti with 5,825 m), deep canyons such as Colca (with a depth of 3,270 m, it is one of the deepest in the world), renowned gastronomy, small coves and beaches.
